

Ivanka Sokol

Ivanka Sokol is the current treasurer of the BSYF. She was made in the Biokovo Mountains of Dalmatia, journeying in utero to the Swan Valley of Western Australia in 1958. A graduate of the Drama Studio, Sydney, she holds a Bachelor of Visual Art from Sydney College of the Arts - The University of Sydney - majoring in electronic art, as well as a first class honours in visual art from Edith Cowan University. Her creative research and practice interfaces embodied emotions and the moving image.

She has been an active member of Melbourne based theatre company Liminal Theatre and Performance for over a decade, receiving a Green Room Award (AV) for her work on The Damask Drum and nominations for AV and Production on Oedipus: A Poetic Requiem. She is currently a PhD candidate at Murdoch University in Western Australia, for which she is conducting a practice-based research on the Croatian Diaspora in Western Australia.
